Prevention and management of chronic disease: a litmus test for health-systems strengthening in low-income and middle-income countries.