

Third Newsletter of Sania Nishtar's WHO Director-General Election Campaign

April 27, 2017: Support for Sania Nishtar's candidature for WHO soars as stalwarts such as Her Royal Highness Princess Dina Mired, Harvard former dean of public health school Barry Bloom and Musimbi Kanyoro, head of the global Fund for Women endorse her candidature. One of the most significant endorsements came as a letter of support from the Steering Committee of the Emerging Markets Symposium Initiative of the Green Templeton College, Oxford University. The collective voice of these experts is a huge win for the campaign. Read third newsletter here.

Her Royal Highness, Princess Dina Mired of Jordan

Professor Barry Bloom, Harvard University Distinguished Service Professor